House Committee Speeds Work on Law To Ban Stoppages; Auto Union Gives Indication of Rough Time for Proposal

Thomas Says General Motors Strike 'Sound, Legal, Moral'; Cool on Truman Idea

Delegates Called

Rank and File Will Decide Issue; Meeting Is Scheduled

Detroit, Dec. 4 (AP)—Opposition by the C.I.O. United Auto Workers' top leadership indicated a rough road ahead today for President Truman's proposal for a halt to the General Motors strike.

Union officials emphasized that a final decision on the President's plea for immediate resumption of work would be left to the 175,000 strikers, but they made no bones about their own personal sentiments.

Defending the G.M. strike as "sound, legal and moral," U.A.W.-C.I.O. President R. J. Thomas said he was "not solid" on Mr. Truman's proposal to end the stoppage and abide by the recommendations of a government fact-finding board.

Before the board is appointed, Thomas said, the President "should know" that General Motors has not cooperated on collective bargaining and has rejected conciliation, mediation and arbitration. Such a board, he added, could easily be "packed" in either direction.

U.A.W.-C.I.O. President Walter P. Reuther, who has led the fight for a 30 per cent wage increase for G.M. workers, and Secretary-Treasurer George F. Addes both commented they would want something "more tangible" in return for ending the strike.

The union promptly summoned the more than 200 delegates to its national G.M. conference—with whose approval the strike was called two weeks ago—to meet in Detroit Saturday. The President's proposal will be laid before them without recommendation from international officers, Thomas said.

The council's report will be carried back to G.M. locals throughout the country for membership votes which will be binding, the U.A.W. head declared.

President Truman admitted the fact-finding board he is appointing "will not have the statutory powers which I hope the Congress will soon authorize," but he said he was "sure the American people will expect the employer and the employes to cooperate with the board as fully as if appropriate legislation had already been passed."

Thomas and Reuther conferred at Pittsburgh today with Philip Murray, president of the C.I.O. and also of the United Steel Workers, second only to the U.A.W. in numerical strength among the C.I.O. affiliates.

The more than 600,000 steel workers were asked by Mr. Truman to withhold their threatened strike until another fact-finding board has made its report.

At New York C. E. Wilson, G.M. president, declined comment on the Chief Executive's proposal pending further study.

These were the other developments on the troubled automotive labor front:

Thomas said a letter accepting Wilson's proposal for reopening some of the G.M. plants to produce parts and accessories for dependent and rival manufacturers was written by the union's publicity staff and not by him.

Ordering no more letters sent out over his signature without his knowledge, he said he would not have agreed to the offer at least until a complete study of the parts situation had been made.

The Justice Department promised a thorough investigation of the union's charges that G.M. "holds a monopoly position" by its control of the engine fuel pump supply.

U.A.W.-C.I.O. leaders said they would answer the Ford Motor Company's demand for "company security" at the resumption of wage negotiations next Monday. Ford is seeking a guarantee of $5 a day from the union for each U.A.W. member engaging in an unauthorized strike.

Ship Asks for Help

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—The Liberty ship Henry Ward Beecher, with 341 homeward bound American troops aboard, radioed today for assistance from a point about 380 miles northeast of Bermuda. The vessel, bound from Marseille, France, to Norfolk, Va., reported at 2:26 a. m. (EST) that she had dropped her propellor. A Third Naval District spokesman said it was presumed aid was dispatched promptly from Bermuda, and it was believed several ships were standing by to lend aid. The weather in the area was reported moderate.

Shawcross Opens Anglo Case Against 20 Nazi Leaders

Attorney General Calls Men Murderers and Robbers; They Built Hitler

Nuernberg, Dec. 4 (AP) — The twenty once mighty Nazi leaders on trial for their lives before an international tribunal were excoriated in the name of the British Commonwealth today as "murders and robbers" personally and individually accountable for breaking the world's peace.

Opening the British case against Hermann Goering, Rudolf Hess, Joachim von Ribbentrop and their fellow members of the fallen clique, Sir Hartley Shawcross, Attorney General of the United Kingdom, declared that the defendants had piloted Germany into "aggression, naked and unashamed" and plunged the world into an applingly costly war.

"These men were no mere willing tools," Shawcross said. "They are the men whose support had built Hitler up into the position of power he occupied. They are the men whose initiation and planning perhaps conceived and certainly made possible the acts of aggression made in Hitler's name."

The Attorney General's 30,000-word address introduced the British citation of proof that the accussed were guilty of crimes against the peace. The United States has concluded its presentation on the first of three other counts in the indictment — that the Nazis engaged in a conspiracy to wage a war of aggression. Two remaining counts, charging war crimes and crimes against humanity, are to be prosecuted jointly by Russia and France.

Shawcross first sought to show that the Hitler gang violated firmly established international law through aggression and preparation for aggression.

Traces German Course

Then, step by step, from the long-concealed words of the Nazis themselves, he traced the German course of broken treaties, violated frontiers and ultimate carnage and misery.

"Their lust and sadism," he said, "their deliberate slaughter and the degradation of so many millions of their fellow creatures that the imagination reels incomprehensibly, are but one side only of this matter.

"Perhaps their guilt as murderers and robbers is of less importance and of less effect to future generations of mankind than their crime of fraud — the fraud by which they placed themselves in a position to do their murder and their robbery. . . .

"Should it be taken as a precedent of behavior in the conduct of international relations, its consequences to mankind will no less certainly lead to the end of civilized society."

Shawcross declared the chief nations, forced to defend themselves against an outlaw Germany, therefore have established a tribunal so that the conduct of the Nazi leaders "may be exposed in its naked wickedness" and "in the hope that the conscience and good sense of all the world will see the consequences of such conduct."

He said the British empire was determined to prove "that the waging of an aggressive war is not only a dangerous venture but a criminal one," and that "persons who, in violation of this law, plunge their own and other countries into an aggressive war, do so with a halter around their necks."

Cites British View

It is Britain's view, Shawcross said, that this tribunal shall apply "not the law of the victor but the accepted principles of international usage," and shall finish "what the law of nations itself constituted an international crime before this tribunal was established."

Mentioning particularly the Kellogg-Briand Pact, signed at Paris in 1928, Shawcross said it "has in no way been modified or replaced by the charter of the United Nations."

"The pact of Paris is the law of nations. This tribunal will enforce it," he declared.

He turned then to a detailed analysis of German moves and motives, asserting: "From the moment Hitler became chancellor in 1933, with the defendant von Papen as vice-chancellor, and with the defendant von Neurath as his foreign minister, the whole atmosphere of the world darkened."

"Treaties," Shawcross said, "seemed no longer matters of solemn obligation, but were entered into with complete cynicism as a means of deceiving other states of Germany's warlike intentions."

It was in 1937, Britain's chief

F.D.R. Said in Nov. 1941 Japs' Aggression Might Bring War

Roosevelt Thought Then Japs Might Move Against Thailand With Troops

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—Congressional investigators heard today that the late President Roosevelt informed the Philippine high commissioner on November 26, 1941, that the "next Japanese aggression might cause an outbreak of hostilities between the U. S. and Japan."

A message read into the record of the Pearl Harbor Investigating Committee disclosed that the President said 11 days before the attack on Hawaii that there were "no clear indications" of where the Japanese might direct the military strength they were massing. It added, however:

"Advance against Thailand seems the most probable."

In this connection, the President said:

"I consider it possible that the next Japanese aggression might cause an outbreak of hostilities between the U. S. and Japan."

Mr. Roosevelt noted that the Japanese were strongly reinforcing their garrisons and naval forces in the mandated islands "in a manner which indicates they are preparing this region as quickly as possible against a possible attack on them by U. S. forces."

Maj. Gen. Sherman Miles told the committee earlier that the United States in January, 1941—11 months before Pearl Harbor—gave Great Britain the secret means for breaking the Japanese code.

Miles, chief of Military Intelligence at the time, said "I can't answer, offhand," whether the British in turn relayed here information they subsequently got from decoding Japanese messages.

There was this exchange between Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) and Miles:

"Did you ever get from Britain any information they obtained from Japan by decoding?"

"I can't answer that offhand."

"Why not?"

"My memory is not sufficiently good to allow me to say yes or no."

Ferguson asked whether there were any files on the matter. Miles said he doubted that there were, that it was a matter of great secrecy.

Maj. Gen. Sherman Miles testified earlier today that general staff officers agreed in a conference with Gen. George C. Marshall shortly before noon December 7, 1941 that the Japanese might strike Thailand by 1 p. m., Washington time.

Miles, then head of the army's intelligence division, read to a Senate-House inquiry committee a memorandum he had prepared December 15, 1941, for Gen. Marshall on the events of that fateful Sunday when the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor.

The witness said that the delivery of the fourteenth part of an intercepted Japanese diplomatic message, plus a direction to Japanese "Peace" ambassador to hand it to Secretary of State Hull at 1 p. m. convinced army leaders here that a hostile move might be in the offing.

"We thought it probable that the Japanese line of action would be into Thailand, but it might be any one or more of a number of areas," Miles' memorandum said.

Miles said he urged that the Philippines, Hawaii, Panama and the west coast be informed immediately. He said General Marshall penciled out a message, after talk-

Manila Robbery Ends With Arrest of Five

Manila, Dec. 4 (AP)—Four armed Manila youths staged the biggest bank robbery in Filipino history today and were seized eight hours later along with their loot of 399,000 pesos ($199,500).

Col. J. P. Holland, Manila police chief, said the four youths marched into the Philippine Bank of Communications this morning, held up two clerks, scooped up the money, and fled in a jeep.

Sharp-eyed witnesses later spotted the jeep and a one-armed youth they said was a member of the gang, and tipped off U. S. Army authorities.

Military police closed in quickly and surrounded the four in a house in the suburb of Santa Ana. The suspects surrendered without firing a shot. A fifth man was arrested as a suspected accomplice.

Would Pass Measure by Christmas; May Provide Machinery for Arbitration

To Name Boards

President Will Not Wait for Congress, but Will Pick Boards

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP) — The House Military Committee put on a burst of speed today in an effort to meet President Truman's pre-Christmas deadline for a law to forbid crucial work stoppages until the public can learn the facts.

Chairman May (D-Ky.) summoned his committee to a 10 a. m. (E.S.T.) closed-door session to consider methods that would permit a House vote within a matter of days. If passed the measure then would go to the Senate.

Specifically Mr. Truman asked Congress to authorize fact-finding procedures for important labor disputes, with strikes or lockouts barred for 30 days. In his special message the chief executive asked that the lawmakers pass such a law before they go home for Christmas December 20.

May told reporters he favors adding the Presidentially-requested legislation to a bill which will be eligible for House consideration Thursday.

That measure would repeal major provisions of the Smith-Connally war labor disputes act.

Strong support among both Democrats and Republicans formed behind May's move, and several committee members said they would insist on a decision today.

There were indications the committee might go even further than the President requested by providing for arbitration machinery coupled with stiff penalties on unions or industries which refused to abide by recommendations of mediation commissions. May himself said he favored such action.

Without waiting for Congress to act, Mr. Truman said he will appoint fact-finding boards of the type he outlined for both the 20-state General Motors strike and the current steel wage dispute.

He asked the 225,000 striking C.I.O. United Auto Workers to go back to their jobs and appealed to the 700,000 C.I.O. steel workers not to walk out. He sent appeals too to General Motors and United States Steel Corporation heads for full production while the fact-finding boards carry out their assignments.

In Detroit, C.I.O. union leaders expressed dissatisfaction with Mr. Truman's proposal for ending the auto strike but left a final back-to-work decision to the union's membership.

There was no immediate specific comment from either C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors, or Benjamin F. Fairless, head of U. S. Steel. C.I.O. President Philip Murray, who also heads the steel workers union, likewise declined comment.

Under his fact-finding plan neither party would be bound by the findings but, the President said, "the general public would know all the facts."

"The result, I am sure," Mr. Truman declared, "would be that in most cases both sides would accept the recommendations, as they have in most of the railway labor disputes.

While general congressional reaction to the President's message was favorable, some members said they felt it did not go far enough and others were more critical.

"Definitely anti-labor," commented Rep. Marcantonio (Amn. Lab. N. Y.), who said it would take away labor's right to strike.

Three Naval Fliers To Get Key Posts In Fleet Program

Forrestal Announces New Operations Plan for Service; King and Nimitz Agree

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—In recognition of the "increasingly dominant" role of aviation in the Navy, Secretary Forrestal today announced a new plan of organization which will give qualified naval aviators three of the six top jobs under the chief of naval operations.

As further evidence of the evolution of air power within the Navy, he said, aviators will be given fleet commands.

Admiral John H. Towers, the Navy's No. 1 aviator and now commander of the Fifth Fleet, eventually will relieve Admiral Raymond A. Spruance as commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet, Forrestal disclosed.

He said Vice Admiral Marc A. Mitscher "in due course" will leave his present post of deputy chief of naval operations for air to become commander of the Eighth Fleet, based in the Atlantic.

"Because these men pioneered aviation in the Navy," Forrestal said, "the Navy looks to them, as well as to all their fellow officers of all origins, to be equally and fully alert to the effect of new weapons on the further evolution of sea power."

The office of the chief of naval operations consists of six key positions under the chief—a vice chief of naval operations and five deputy chiefs.

Forrestal said he and Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King, retiring chief, and Fleet Admiral Chester Nimitz, successor to King, had agreed that three of these six positions would be occupied by flying men.

"Also, in general," he added, "the officer next in status to the key aviation officers mentioned will be a non-aviator whereas when a key officer is a non-aviator, the officer next in status will be an aviator."

Forrestal said the office of vice chief of naval operations, now held by Admiral Frederick C. Horne, will be assigned to Vice Admiral D. C. Ramsey, a naval aviator and now deputy commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet.

The deputy chief of naval operations for operations—an officer in charge of strategic plans, actual fleet operations and fleet readiness—also will be a naval aviator. He has been selected by Admiral Nimitz and will take over when he completes his present assignment. He was not identified.

Rear Admiral Richard L. Conolly, an amphibious commander, holds the post now.

The third key positions assigned to an aviator will be that of deputy chief of naval operations for air, now held by Mitscher. The office has charge of all aviation plans, determination of aircraft

Hata Says Hirohito Took Action to Save U. S. Fliers

Former War Minister Says Clemency Order Issued in 1942

Tokyo, Dec. 4 (AP)—Only Emperor Hirohito's personal intercession prevented the execution of all American fliers captured in the April, 1942, bombing of Tokyo, Field Marshal Shunroku Hata, former War Minister and chief aide de camp to the Emperor, said today.

Hata, named as a suspected war criminal in General MacArthur's latest list of wanted men, said in an interview that the Emperor's clemency order was issued around October, 1942, after three of the captured Doolittle airmen were executed in Shanghai.

Hata was commander-in-chief of all Japanese forces in China at that time.

He said he was not sure whether 10 or 11 Doolittle fliers were captured, but the three executed in China were court martialed by the Japanese 13th Army and its commander, Lt. Gen. Shigeru Sawada, "must bear the responsibility." Sawada already has been imprisoned.

After the crash, the three airmen were brought to Japan for questioning and then were returned to China, the Marshal said.

The Emperor learned of the executions when they were reported by the army chief of staff, the late Field Marshal Gen. Sugiyama. Hirohito then ordered no further killings.

As commander-in-chief, Hata said he received only final reports on the China executions and "was not sure in my own mind whether this was a good policy." However, he took no disciplinary action.

The Field Marshal, who survived the atomic bombing of Hiroshima, also asserted that "as long as the United States hangs on to the atomic bomb no other nation will start aggression and therefore peace will be assured, but I do not know what will happen if other nations acquire the bomb."

McVay Enters Innocence Plea

Indianapolis Chief Hears Charges of Negligence, Inefficiency

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—Capt. Charles B. McVay, 3rd, skipper of the ill-fated Cruiser Indianapolis, entered formal pleas of innocent to charges of negligence and inefficiency in the loss of the vessel today.

The charges were read to him at his public court martial and when asked how he pleaded he replied in a firm voice "not guilty."

Asked if he had any admission to make in open court with regard to the charges and specifications, he replied through his counsel, Capt. John P. Cady, that he was commanding officer of the Cruiser Indianapolis on July 30, 1945, the date she was sunk and that the ship was en route from Guam to Leyte.

Capt. McVay, in response to an inquiry, said these acknowledgements were made with his consent.

As court opened, counsel for the accused officer reported the defense was ready to proceed with the trial and the charges and specifications were read to him.

The seven man court, headed by Rear Admiral Wilder D. Baker, was convened yesterday, but granted the defense a 24-hour postponement to complete preparation of its case.

Although loss of the heavy cruiser has been officially attributed to "enemy action," there has been no explanation of exactly what caused the disaster. The ship, survivors related, sank in 15 minutes. There were 100 per cent casualties among the ships 1,196 personnel. Dead and missing totaled 880, and the remainder were injured.

The prosecution introduced testimony today through its witness that the Indianapolis had been warned of submarine contacts "within 200 miles" of the route the cruiser was instructed to take.

This testimony was given by Lieutenant Joseph J. Waldron, the convoy routing officer at Guam.

The lieutenant described how the route was devised from Guam to Leyte and a copy of it and intelligence instructions was introduced.

The instructions were that the Indianapolis was to proceed on a specific longitude and latitude at 15 knots, arriving at Leyte on July 31st. The commander was in-

Officials Study New Moves on Iran Diplomatic Tangle

Little Hope Is Held Red Army Activities Can Be Brought to Conclusion

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—American officials studied possible new moves in the Iranian impasse today with little evident hope of bringing an early end to Big Three differences over Red Army activities there.

Russia's formal rejection of a United States proposal for withdrawal of all Allied troops by January 1 left this country in a position of having supported strongly but in vain the Iranian government's demand that Soviet forces stop interfering with the movement of Iranian troops.

And there were no ways immediately apparent by which the United States might impress more emphatically its views upon Moscow.

It was this problem which had State Department diplomats busy today.

The department disclosed Russia's rejection last night. Michael J. McDermott, department news officer, said American troops still are to be withdrawn by year's end. They are leaving now as rapidly as possible, he added.

The United States had told Russia and Britain that if their forces, which divided the country between them for strategic reasons during the war, would also get out now the danger of further incidents in Iran would be ended.

The British have not replied at all. The Russians are understood to have said that since they already have agreed with the British to withdraw by March 2—six months after the end of the Japanese war—they see no reason for changing the agreement.

What most American officials privately express fear about is the possibility that the things which happen from now on in Iran may show up in some measure as the Conference Is Held

Albany, Dec. 4 (AP)—Thomas A. Murray, president of the New York State Federation of Labor, opening a legislative conference of the federation here said today his group would ask legislation providing for payment of unemployment sick benefits to New York state workers. Murray said the proposed bill was intended to assure New York workers of "protection in this very important matter" in the event that the national health bill now before Congress was not passed, or if it were delayed.

City Digs Out Today

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 4 (AP)—The city dug out today from the season's first snow—a 1.8-inch coating that disrupted utilities and traffic and left 43 major accidents in its wake. The snowfall began early yesterday afternoon and, whipped by a 29-miles-an-hour wind, continued until early this morning.

FM Authority Asked

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—The Kingston (N.Y.) Broadcasting Corporation asked Communications Commission authority yesterday to operate a FM radio station.

Singing Spar Will Appear With Sea-Landers at Ball

Appearing here at the municipal auditorium with the Sea-Landers band on Saturday evening, December 8, for the big Victory Loan Ball will be Peggy Martin, one of the country's greatest jazz vocalists. Peggy is a Spar and is doing a great job singing for the Coast Guard Victory Show. Her arrangement of "Sunnyside of the Street" is a number well worth waiting for.

The Victory Loan Ball, arranged through the United States Treasury Department, by the local Victory War Loan Committee will bring one of the finest of service bands to Kingston in the Sea-Landers. Admission to the ball is by purchase of a Victory Bond or a pledge to purchase one through pay-roll savings plan.

Every man in the Sea-Landers band is a veteran of many invasions and a musician in his own right. In addition to the music for the ball, the Sea-Landers will bring to Kingston next Saturday night a complete one hour show with dancers, comedians, singers and entertainers.

On the show with Peggy Martin is Jack Lopez, seaman first class of the U. S. Coast Guard Reserve, who before the war was one of America's top tap dancers. For comedy tap dancing and sheer entertainment, Joe Baldwin, leader of the band says, "Lopez is without doubt one of the funniest entertainers I have ever seen on a stage."

An added attraction will be Joe Williams, musician first class, U. S. Coast Guard Reserve, the top drum major in the service. His final act with a fire baton will be one of the hits of the show.

Japanese Diet Members Are Half-Hearted in Their Task

Tokyo, Dec. 4 (AP)—The Diet, with 26 members named on General MacArthur's latest list of wanted criminal suspects, was portrayed today by one member as feeling "as if an incendiary big shell has dropped on a neighbor's house."

Under such a cloud, the nation's gloomy financial situation was discussed only halfheartedly. The Diet heard yesterday that heavy tax increases are ahead.

Kyodo news agency quoted Finance Minister Keizo Shibuzawa as saying the government has decided to reimburse investors for the loss of Japanese assets estimated at approximately 110,000,000,000 yen (about $7,000,000,000) in Manchuria, China, Korea, Formosa, Sakhalin and southern Pacific areas.

Presumably all Japanese assets abroad are to be seized for reparations.

Kyodo said MacArthur's Monday order for the arrest of 59 more suspects blew up "a war criminal storm" in the Diet. It likened the list to "sticking a dagger into the heart of the Diet, which is trying to gloss over the situation by pulling out a war responsibility resolution."

The newspaper Yomiuri said editorially:

"Diet members in general appeared to have given a sigh of relief when they ascertained for themselves their names were not listed. The members could not conceal the uneasiness in their minds although they previously pretended to be indifferent regarding Diet members' responsibility for the war."

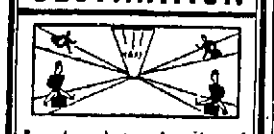

Adm. Sankichi Takahashi, once commander in chief of the combined Japanese fleet, expressed no surprise at the order for his arrest and, the newspaper Asahi said, asserted: "I am one of the persons responsible for the war."

Bergan Says Basis For Fixing Costs Needs Revision

Policy, He Says, Should Not Be Changed During Controversy Over Awards

The method of assessing damages in New York city water cases "perhaps needs fundamental revision," says Justice Francis Bergan in a decision involving the amount of compensation to be allowed Commissioners of Appraisal John H. Kelley of Kingston, Albert T. Decker of Liberty and Louis S. Lewis of New York, members of Rondout Riparian Section No. 4, Ulster county, commission. However, Justice Bergan says, "a policy of this court ought not to be changed for a single case in which there is a heated controversy between counsel for the city and the commissioners of appraisal and where there have been sharp differences concerning the amount of the awards made by the commissioners."

Justice Bergan further states that, "if the policy as to the amount of compensation for commissioners of appraisal is to be changed, the subject ought to be examined objectively and carefully."

Last September 7 at special term Richard H. Burke and John E. Egan, representing the corporation counsel's office of the city of New York, appeared before Justice Bergan and offered strenuous objection to the compensation sought by the commissioners on Rondout Riparian Section No. 4 commission.

Two members of the commission, Commissioners Kelley and Decker, sought compensation for 52 days and Commissioner Lewis sought compensation for 61 days at the current rate of $50 per day.

The City of New York objected on the grounds that the days sought were excessive. Commissioner Lewis sought compensation for several more days than Commissioners Kelley and Decker, claiming he had spent the additional time in executive session in preparing the report of the commission. He also sought four days time at $50 per day for travel time between New York city and Kingston.

New York city objected to paying $50 a day for travel time between Mr. Lewis's office and Kingston in order to be present next morning for a hearing. Objection was also made to the time sought for viewing property, it being contended that more than one parcel in a locality should be viewed in a day and it was not necessary to spend one day to view each parcel.

Argument before Justice Bergan was very heated with the commissioners contending they were entitled to the compensation sought and the City objecting to confirmation of the allowance.

In his memorandum Justice Bergan refers to the "surcharged atmosphere of this case" and states he intends, "to fix compensation of the commissioners as far as I am able to do so, consistently with what has been done without objection in other similar cases."

Justice Bergan reduced the days of Commissioners Kelley and Decker to 49 at $50 per day, a cut of $150 each, and reduces the days of Commissioner Lewis from 61 to 49 days at $50 a day, a cut of $600.

"Commissioners are allowed $50 a day for the day of organization, for 22 days hearings and for 12 days of views. This, it seems to me, is what has been done in all other instances called to my attention," says Justice Bergan. "The number of executive sessions, 17 in relation to 22 days of hearings, is higher than in any compared case. There is nothing to show unusual complexity. I think the executive sessions should be kept in proportion with the practice shown in the examples cited by the commissioners. Compensation at $50 a day for 14 days of executive session is allowed. The additional allowance sought by Commissioner Lewis for executive sessions is disallowed. The expense accounts are allowed as filed," concludes Justice Bergan who directs that an order be submitted.

Yamashita Asks U. S. Court Order His Trial Stopped

Military Tribunal Lacks Authority to Try Him, Japanese Asserts

Manila, Dec. 4 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita appealed to the United States Supreme Court today to stop his war crimes trial and let him plead his cause in Washington.

The military commission, before recessing until tomorrow, had announced it expected to decide Friday whether Yamashita must pay with his life for the atrocities of his Japanese troops.

For the second time in the month-long trial, the Japanese commander who was trounced by General MacArthur in the second battle for the Philippines tried to go over the commission's head.

Yamashita asked the supreme court for a writ of prohibition to halt the trial, order him restored to the status of prisoner of war "in conformity with the Geneva Convention," and allow him to appear in Washington for a special hearing.

His petition asserted that "there was no authority to appoint the commission and it is without jurisdiction" since the islands are neither under martial law nor military government rule.

This was much the same argument his counsel presented before the Philippines Supreme Court, which on November 28 rejected his petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

The military commission will begin hearing the final arguments of defense and prosecution tomorrow.

Saugerties Board To Send Contingents

Local Board No. 314, Saugerties, will forward the following registrants for induction into service at Albany on December 5: John H. Gallo, R.D. 1, Kingston; Donald J. Malone, R.D. 2, Kingston; Stephen G. Balogh, R.D. 1, Kingston; Lawrence F. Whitaker, Saugerties.

On the same day the following registrants will receive their preinduction physical examination: Ralph F. Mayone, R.D. 2, Saugerties; John Mayone, Jr., Glasco; Virgil L. Winnie, Big Indian; Thomas I. Wootton, Saugerties; Frank A. Serravallo, Glasco; Richard Valk, R.D. 1, Saugerties; Edward R. Leyder, R.D. 1, Saugerties.

No Kiddie Kissing

Newark, N. J., Dec. 4 (AP)—Santa Claus can't kiss the kiddies, says Health Officer Dr. Charles V. Craster who is advocating a sanitary Christmas for Newark. He told 13 department stores Santas at a meeting yesterday: "Under no circumstances will the kissing of children be tolerated. Should a child indicate such a desire, the Santa Claus must gracefully resist such an attempt." Craster also asked the Santas to help "give Newark a reputation for clean Santa Clauses" by keeping beards clean and carrying clean handkerchiefs so they won't be tempted to wipe their noses on gloves.

Americans Are Honored

Poznan, Poland, Dec. 4 (AP)—The city council has issued a decree renaming two principal squares in Poznan in honor of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Herbert Hoover. Most Polish cities have streets named after Generalissimo Stalin and the Red Army, but this is the first reported to have accorded a similar honor to any American since the war.

Rescue Crews Seek Four Navy Airmen

Portland, Ore., Dec. 4 (AP)—Army rescue crews on snowshoes today hunted the area south of Washington's Mount St. Helen's for trace of four navy airmen missing since they parachuted from their plane last Thursday.

One of the airmen surviving the navy plane crash was resting in an air base hospital here after spending three nights in the rugged mountains sleeping in logs and under trees wrapped in his parachute.

He is 1st Lt. Warren H. Lawson, Mangun, Okla., army veteran of 19 months European theatre combat, who told last night how he struggled through deep snow and the dense forest growth before reaching a road where a motorist found him.

Meanwhile, another army unit was trying to reach wreckage of a B-24, one of two missing since November 1 with nine men aboard.

Local Death Record

The Rev. Henry A. Curtin, 65, rector of St. Peter's R. C. Church, Liberty, died Monday in Maimonides Hospital in that village. He was at one time pastor of St. Charles Church in New Paltz and was sent to Liberty in 1940.

Funeral services for Mrs. Rose Terwilliger were held at the home in Rifton on Monday, the Rev. Robert B. Guice of Poughkeepsie officiating. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends and floral offerings were numerous. Burial was in Wiltwyck cemetery, bearers being H. Ashcroft, C. Payne, E. Yerry and W. Walker.

Funeral services for William M. Warrington of Elmhurst, L. I., were held in Astoria, L. I., Friday at 8 p. m., conducted by the Rev. David Williams of the Presbyterian Church. Interment Saturday afternoon was in Montrepose Cemetery, Kingston, services at the grave being conducted by the Rev. W. R. Peckham of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. Mr. Warrington, a former resident of Kingston, retired five years ago after 44 years of service as a tug captain on the East river. He is survived by his wife; a daughter, Eleanor, living in California; two sisters, Mrs. Frank Britt of Rockville Center, N. Y., and Mrs. Elmer Hopper of Kingston.

Held for County Court On Charges of Burglary

Louis Atkins, 34, of Highland, was brought to the county jail Monday night from Dannemora by Sheriff Smith on an order issued by County Judge John M. Cashin. Also arrested at Poughkeepsie on a bench warrant issued by Judge Cashin and brought to Kingstonn by sheriff's deputies were Chester Atkins, 28, of Poughkeepsie and James J. Chase, 23 of Newburgh.

Louis Atkins is now serving a sentence in Dannemora and Chester Atkins and Chase had just completed serving a sentence in Dutchess county. They are being held for appearance in county court on charges of being involved in a burglary in southern Ulster about a year ago.

Plane Reaches Paris

Paris, Dec. 4 (AP)—The Paris Sky Chief, instituting a new commercial route for Transcontinental and Western Airlines, landed at Orly Field at 10:35 a. m. (4:35 a. m. E.S.T.) today after a flight from Washington which included a stop at London. A company spokesman said regular flights to Paris probably would start by December 20, with extensions to Cairo soon afterward.

Four Powers Make Vice Drives in Berlin Precincts

Berlin, Dec. 4 (AP)—The four powers occupying Germany, aided by German civilian police, are pushing a concerted drive against vice and delinquency which is bringing in about 2,500 Berlin women and girls weekly.

Up to last week 50 per cent of those examined had venereal diseases. A campaign of compulsory treatment is now reducing this to approximately 25 per cent.

In launching the anti-vice drive, military government authorities are tackling what one senior American medical officer called "the greatest morals problem in the world."

He estimated there are 250,000 women of "easy virtue" in Berlin, among whom at least 60,000 are classified as professional or semi-professional prostitutes.

"These figures shock even the Germans," the medical officer said. "They reflect more than a moral breakdown—more nearly a chaos to which many factors contribute.

"To explain it, one must first of all remember that the Nazis encouraged illegitimacy to promote the birth rate. And now here's a beaten up city of 3,000,000 people occupied by armies of four nations. It's a city through which stream many thousands of refugees with many lost children, a city in which food and shelter are short, a city in which many thousands of women lost their men through death or imprisonment.

"Above all, it's a cheerless city in which, for most German girls, life has stopped, and the only way to get a cigaret or candy bar or get into a dance hall or night club is through an Allied soldier."

So the girls hang around soldier clubs, movies and other hangouts of Allied troops, and that is where most raids are conducted.

Milder Weather Follows Cold Snap in Kingston

Milder temperatures followed the close to zero weather of early Monday morning in the city, and during the afternoon thermometers that had been recording as low as 2 degrees, were registering 39 degrees. This morning at 5:45 o'clock the official city thermometer was recording 33 degrees.

Monday morning there was a fall of a quarter of an inch of snow here, but the snow soon turned to slush as the mercury began creeping upwards.

Above freezing temperatures prevailed throughout last night and early this morning. Today during the early morning hours the skies were heavy and overcast with a threat of rain in the air.

ing to Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations.

The Miles memorandum said that when Gen. Marshall put down the telephone, he said that "the Admiral did not think any further warnings necessary, since all of the forces had already been several times alerted."

Miles said in his memorandum that Lt. Gen. Leonard T. Gerow, then head of the War Plans Division, urged that the Philippines receive the first priority on the warning message.

He quoted Gerow as follows: "Tell them to give first priority to the Philippines."

There has been previous evidence that the warning to Pearl Harbor went by commercial cables and was delivered three hours after the attack.

Victory Loan Will Fall Short on "E" Bond Sales

Washington, Dec. 4 (AP)—The $11,000,000,000 Victory Loan will be over-subscribed but it may fall short of success in one important feature—the sale of E-Bonds to individuals—War Finance Director Ted R. Gamble said today.

The big goal is to sop up $2,000,000,000 of individually-held idle money and thus divert it from inflationary spending.

The Treasury and its War Finance Division have a pattern of daily sales expectancy which, if realized each day, would meet the goal. But in the last 12 days sales met the pattern only once. During that time sales lagged a total of $77,000,000.

Actually, E-Bond sales to date still are above the pattern. The total sold stands at $1,037,000,000 against $975,000,000 expected under the pattern.

But that margin is only $62,000,000—against a $77,000,000 lag in the last 12 days.

And there still is $963,000,000 to go to meet the $2,000,000,000 goal. The drive ends formally Saturday night, but E-Bond sales will be counted through month's end, as has been the practice in previous drives.

Gamble expressed the fear that interest in the War Loan drives is waning.

"This should not be the case," Gamble declared. "There is still a debt to pay and as far as money is concerned we undoubtedly will oversubscribe the $11,000,000,000 goal.

"But the debt can only be met if the people, who have more money available today than at any time in the past, will put that money to a useful purpose, a purpose such as the holding off of inflation."

prosecutor declared, that the German War Ministry issued a "directive for unified preparation for war" which said Germany "need not consider an attack from any side but must be ready for 'military exploitation of politically favorable opportunities should they occur.'"

"That phrase is no more than a euphemistic description of aggressive war," Shawcross asserted.

"As far back as September, 1938, plans for an aggressive war against Poland, England and France were well in hand," Shawcross charged. "While Hitler, at Munich, was telling the world the German people wanted peace and had no more territorial problems in Europe, the staffs of his armed forces were already preparing plans."

Two Contingents Leave Kingston For Albany Center

Two contingents, one of seven men for immediate induction into the armed forces, and the other of nine men for pre-induction physical examinations, left the office of the Kingston Selective Service Board this morning for an army induction center in Albany.

All of the members of the two contingents were in the 18-year-old group.

Richard K. Wood was appointed acting corporal for the contingent for the armed forces, while Leo Janasiewicz was the leader of the pre-induction group.

The members of the two groups assembled in the draft board office at 9:30 o'clock when they were given their final instructions by Chairman Henry C. Connelly of the draft board.

The men for immediate induction into service were: Robert Hymes, Richard K. Wood, Raymond A. Hull, Lawrence C. Murtaugh, Joseph F. Sickler, Octave Perry, Alexander J. Banyo.

Given 1-A Rating

Eight men have been given a 1-A rating in the latest classification list posted by the Kingston Selective Service Board. They are: Jesse E. Temple, William F. Ward, John A. Burke, Joseph H. Rectenwald, William C. Boyle, Donald P. Doyle, Lawrence C. Murtaugh, William J. Houghtaling, Jr.

The World Today

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
A.P. World Traveler

London, Dec. 4—It is a staggering commentary on the gullibility of man that, while the British at Nuernberg are opening their war-crimes case against the 20 Nazi leaders, the English press should be bluzoning reports of the discovery of a "Legion of Christian Reformers" who hold that Adolf Hitler was "a divine instrument sent by God to judge the world."

Such a development in Germany would be more easily understandable. It is almost incredible, however, that a thing of this sort should happen in an England which only a short time ago barely escaped enslavement at the hands of Hitler, the anti-Christ.

This sensation had its beginning in the purchase of a granite bust of Hitler at an auction of former Germany embassy furnishings in London for £500, about $2,000.

The purchaser was Capt. R. R. Gordon-Canning, one-time member of the British Union of Fascists and of the Anglo-German Society, "The Link." He was imprisoned for two years during the war under defense regulations. The bust is said to have been given a home at headquarters of the cult in a stone mansion, with 16 acres of ground, in the lovely Sussex countryside.

It was German belief in Hitler's Messiahship that was partly responsible for his hypnotic hold on his people. During a visit to Germany in 1938, I followed him through the fateful conferences with Chamberlin at Berchtesgaden, Godesberg and Munich, saw his amazing leadership in Berlin and went into little Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland when he made his triumphal entry to annex this territory which he had forced from the helpless Prague government.

Worship of Hitler was strong in many sections, and I mean worship in the religious sense. Great numbers of the people, especially the young folk of the Youth Movement, looked on him as the Messiah.

I may have mentioned in this column before that some newspapers which formerly had couched their death-notices in language something like "here died in the faith of his Lord Jesus Christ," etc., had adopted the shocking phrase, "here died in the faith of Adolf Hitler. There were actual cases of country people prostrating themselves as the Fuehrer passed.

There is some question whether Hitler at the outset regarded himself as a Messiah, although he did believe that he was divinely ordained to carry out his program. However, he encouraged the belief in his own divinity, and his captains spread this revolting creed. Ultimately, he probably came to believe that he was indeed the Messiah, so colossal had become his ego.

What's the moral of this attempt to spread the idea that the arch-criminal was Divine? One doesn't have to go far to find it. There is grave danger in any revival of this terrible creed, for it will render the task of the Allies more difficult in cleaning up Europe and especially in bringing Germany to its right mind. It must be uprooted wherever it is found, and it is a sharp warning to the Allies that there must be no weakening of the original program to kill Hitlerism at all costs.

Lens Is Being Ground

Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 4 (AP)—Scientists, turning from war to peace, yesterday afternoon removed a canvas that has covered the 200-inch telescope mirror since 1942 and resumed the exacting job of grinding away the few thousandths of an inch necessary to complete the world's largest astronomical reflector. "We hope that within 18 months the mirror will have been installed in the new virtually completed observatory on Palomar mountain in San Diego county," announced Dr. Johnson A. Anderson, California Institute of Technology scientist who has been in charge of the project since 1928.

PIN-WORMS GO! New Treatment Gets Real Results

People don't like to talk about Pin-Worm infection. Sometimes they are too embarrassed to mention the tormenting rectal itching. And in many cases they have not known of any effective way to deal with this pest that lives inside the human body.

Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug (gentian violet), a highly effective treatment has been made possible. This drug is the vital ingredient in P-W, the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son.

The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms.

So if you suspect Pin-Worms in your child or yourself, ask your druggist for a package of JAYNE'S P-W right away, and follow the directions. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money back.

It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

NEWBURGH IS DEBT-FREE

Newburgh is a debt-free city. The Newburgh News attributes this accomplishment to good, practical administration with constant regard for the interests of taxpayers not only in the present but future.

Newburgh is to be complimented for entering upon a pay-as-you-go basis, which means that the taxpayers will be saved large sums in interest charges.

Ulster County has been on a pay-as-you-go basis for a number of years.

When will Kingston be debt-free and go on a pay-as-you-go business basis?

It will be well for taxpayers to look into this very important matter and especially at this time of the year when the annual budget is being made up.

WEALTHY BALLPLAYER

Once upon a time a superannuated ballplayer was supposed to live on charity or keep a saloon. Fortunately this state of affairs has not been true for many years. While there are wasters in baseball as in other lines of work, most players are wise enough to realize that their earning years on the diamond are few, and they would better save their money and develop an alternative occupation.

Ty Cobb, long acclaimed the greatest star of them all, seems to have done that. He has just given $250,000 for a hospital at his boyhood home in Royston, Ga., in memory of his parents. Cobb is now living in California, where he is reported to have put his savings into profitable real estate.

While few players have continued in the game as long as Cobb or been paid as liberally, most of the big leaguers make enough, if prudently handled, to keep them out of the breadlines.

POSTWAR ARGUMENTS

After the shooting war comes the war of words at Washington. It is a sad thing after such great victories to dim their glory with another deluge of argument and recrimination. This, unfortunately, seems to be a part of "the American way." It is hard to recall a war that has ended otherwise.

It is well to have the truth and the inner facts regarding any phases of the two great wars we have recently been obliged to fight against the militarist nations, Germany and Japan. Rightly told, they become forever an essential part of our national history, precious for the remembrance and instruction derived from them. Admittedly it is often difficult to get at the roots of such conflicts, and to produce clear and honest pictures of what occurred, and how and why, and where the glory or blame belongs.

This is required for the sake of the men who planned and directed the campaigns, along with those who fought them, and for the people who supported their efforts. But it is in the spirit of the historian, rather than the accuser and prosecutor, that such information should be gathered and given to the public. Flagrant dishonesty or incompetence should naturally be revealed, and punished where punishment seems called for. But in judging, it is always necessary to keep in mind the spirit and purpose of the service rendered or attempted.

MURDER IN GERMANY

The Nazis in 1940 plotted the assassination of Stalin, according to the revelation made by Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson, who is prosecuting the Nazi war criminals. The fact that Russia and Germany were then allies made no difference; the Nazis were just as willing to murder a friend as an enemy.

Assassination is an old political custom of the Nazis, practised even before the Nazi party was officially organized. Following the last war liberal Germans like Walther Rathenau, the financial magnate, and Mathias Erzberger, the statesman, were murdered by gangsters of the sort who later followed Hitler, and nothing was done about it. Hitler himself murdered his predecessor in office, former Chancellor Schleicher.

Before Germany is allowed to govern itself again, the Germans will have to get it out of their heads that murder is a legitimate political device.

How viewpoints change! For the youngster, ice on the sidewalk is something to slide on; for the grown-up, something to slip on.

Old-timers can remember when the Japs were regarded pleasantly as cute little men.

The Army sought to educate those American citizens who came under its charge. Its publications bore the imprimatur of the Army thus, "Prepared by Army Orientation Branch, Information and Education Division, A.S.F. (A.G. 353, (16 Jan. 44))." The gibberish at the end is for Army consumption, but the front part of the legend makes the government of the United States responsible for every word and letter in the document—for its truth.

I hold in my hand "Army Talk—Orientation Fact Sheet, 64." It is an eight-page pamphlet on "Fascism;" three sheets at the end are devoted to "Supplementary Material" and of these three pages nearly one is devoted to quoting not from the American Constitution but from the Soviet Constitution. For instance, to elevate the American soldier's mind, to strengthen his morale, to encourage him to love his country and flag, its ideals and traditions, he is told this by the United States Army:

"The Soviets early believed that a dictatorship 'of the proletariat' was necessary in order to destroy capitalism and set up socialism; that then the dictatorship should gradually evolve into a democracy, as now provided in their Constitution. Thus, although they now have a secret police and a government controlled press, their ultimate political ideals are directly opposite to the stated ideals of Fascist dictatorship, and their hope is to drop the appurtenances of dictatorship in the process of democratic evolution."

Now, this particular pamphlet is not on Russia but against Fascism. At one point, it is the object of the Army to prove that under Nazism, the German school system, "once the pride of the German people, degenerated . . . to an instrument of ignorance and hate." So the authors in uniform want to contrast sharply between the German school system and some other. Do they tell the story of free education in America? Do they speak of Horace Mann and the movement for free, general, compulsory education? Do they speak of the vast expenditures in this country for education out of taxes? Do they tell how many states require children to remain at school either until they are 16 or 18 years of age?

Now this Army! Apparently, it can find no examples of goodness and worth in the United States. For a wonderful example to cause the American soldier's breast to swell with pride, they tell him this:

". . . Before World War I, only 33 per cent of the Russians could read or write. Today illiteracy is almost absent in the Soviet Union. Between 1914 and 1937 the number of Soviet men and women in colleges increased 800 per cent. . . ."

How the Army knows all this is hard to say. No impartial, non-Russian investigators have studied the Russian educational system and its results over prolonged periods of painstaking research, as anyone who wants to can come to this country to analyze everything here. Be that as it may, how come that the United States is ignored for examples of perfection? Has the Army found nothing good in the United States?

The object of this pamphlet is to educate the American soldier concerning Fascism, but nowhere in it could I find a precise, accurate definition of Fascism or anything else. The Fascist movement was in 1945, when this pamphlet was published, a rather old and shopworn economic, social and political development of a scientific nature that has been applied to many countries. Economically, it was a government control of the means of production and distribution, in the interest of the state and in pursuit of its purposes; politically, it was the seizure of power of government by a single political party with a continuing rejection of the free participation of free citizens in the choosing of government; socially, it involved the enslavement of the individual, physical, mentally and spiritually to the will of the state.

But the Army says: "Fascism is a way to run a country—it's the way Italy was run, the way Germany and Japan are run. . . . Fascism is government by the few and for the few." Actually, by definition Soviet Russia is as fascistic as Nazi Germany was.

And that is the kind of baby-talk they called "orientation."

CANCER OF THE LUNG

When a patient loses weight, has a persistent cough, and a poor color it is only natural to suspect tuberculosis of the lung despite the fact that the germ is not present in the sputum. That cancer of the lung may be the cause of the symptoms is pointed out in Medical World, London, which states that the symptoms produced by cancer of the lung depend to a large extent on the degree of obstruction present in the bronchial tubes. The most important early symptom is a dry hacking cough accompanied by slight bronchial wheezing, much like the wheezing of asthma. During this early stage, a few coarse sounds may be heard over the part of the lung affected.

Unfortunately the X-rays do not reveal cancer as the tumor at this stage is not large enough to cast a shadow.

Slight asthmatic wheezing is a very important early symptom and should never be neglected as it is practically always present in all cases of bronchial cancer. The importance of this one symptom—wheezing—alone cannot be too strongly emphasized. "Wheezing means only one thing—partial bronchial obstruction." Any patient, particularly of the cancer age (40 to 60 years) should immediately be X-rayed and the bronchoscope used. The bronchoscope may reveal the obstruction. It is fortunate that cancer of the lung almost always starts in the bronchial tubes, and, in 3 of every 4 cases is found in the first or nearest part. The examination by the bronchoscope should be done by a bronchoscopist specially trained in this work. "In the hands of such a person 70 per cent to 80 per cent of cases of cancer of the lung can be recognized, positively diagnosed and localized. The examination should be made under a local anaesthetic and if done expertly should be neither dangerous nor very disturbing."

Surgery offers the only hope of cure, but in early cases only is surgery successful.

On His Own Head

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

It was opening day on May 13, 1922, at Kingston's new ball park, when the Kingston Colonials defeated the Maujers A. C. of Brooklyn, by a score of 8 to 7. The new ball park was the Kingston Fair Grounds, now the municipal stadium.

Mayor Walter P. Crane tossed over the first ball that day.

In the opening game on the new grounds Captain Harry E. Schirick used Bill McAuliffe, Dutch Taylor and Dewey Van Buren on the mound.

The other Colonials were Leo Fitzgerald, Bob Coyle, Jack Robins, Matty Deegan, Dutch Glaser; Bill Schwab, Art Rice, Kid Moore and Cragan.

The first Sunday game was staged the following day at the new grounds when the Colonials defeated Troy by a score of 17 to 9 in a free hitting game. Bud Culloton tossed them over for the Colonials with Jack Robins behind the plate.

Turning from baseball to business on May 17, 1922, the Misses Katherine and Clara Reis of Adams street, took over the confectionery store at 354 Broadway, that had been operated for a number of years by James Miller.

Mr. Miller was disposing of the business in order to devote his entire time to his taxi business, the Wiltwyck Taxi Service.

The play "Mr. Bobs" was given in St. John's parish house on May 16, 1922, with great success by members of the church parish who had been coached by Erastus Osgood.

Among those appearing in the play were Mary Lawrence, Frank A. Anderson, Robert Southard, Lee Hotaling, Beulah LeFever, Nellie Woolsey, and Grace E. Edwards.

The program that night opened with selections by the Kingston Troubadours playing mandolins, banjos, guitars and piano. The members were Nellie Woolsey, Frances Dederick, Gertrude Woolsey, Ruth Burns, Vernon Bechler, Chester Smith, Odelle Mason and Devall Howard.

William M. Vallette, Civil War veteran, who had held the post of clerk to the city assessor since 1910, died on April 26, 1922, in his home on Green street, aged 72 years.

Mr. Vallette was familiarly known as Major Vallette. At the outbreak of the Civil War, the major at the age of 12 years enlisted and served as drummer boy of the old 20th Regiment.

At the close of the war he returned to Kingston, and for years was a member of Pratt Post, Grand Army of the Republic, and served for a long time as secretary and treasurer of the Old Twentieth Regimental Union.

During the 12 years he held the post of clerk to the city assessor he was a familiar figure about the city hall, and was very efficient in his duties in the assessor's office.

The Kingston High School seniors on May 5, 1922, presented the play "Pomander Walk" in the school auditorium with great success.

Those appearing in the cast included John Bott, N. LeVan Haver, John H. Palen, Fred Dressel, Eric Brown, Clarke Snyder, Richard Gruver, Lester Caunitz, Samuel Rosenthal, J. Blair Muller, Estelle Rogers, Margaret Rodie, Frances Muller, Helen Heiser, Katherine Dean, Anna Byrne, Ida Briggs and Louis Polhemus.

The close to zero temperatures of Sunday, December 2, of this year, recall to mind when it was cold in Kingston. For instance on February 24, 1914, it was 22 degrees below zero here, while on January 12 and 13, 1912, the mercury dropped to a low of 31 degrees.

On January 5, 1904, the thermometer hovered from 20 to 30 below zero for practically the entire day.

BOTH SMOKE, BUT HE KNITS

A well dressed young woman caused considerable surprise to other passengers on a suburban train out of Cape Town, South Africa, when she took a neat tobacco pouch and a small little pipe from her handbag and puffed away contentedly. Equally startled were passengers on a Cape Town bus, a few days later, when a young man lit his pipe, took out a bag of knitting and got to work. Asked by the conductor what he was knitting, the youth replied it was a tie for his girl friend.

No Secret

Kansas City, Dec. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Betty Boyd, 83, reported to police the theft of $1,350 from her home.

That amount, she said, was missing from a hiding place—in a hollow post of her old-fashioned brass bedstead.

Principle Outlined by Truman Has Been Established by Congress

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 4—President Truman has taken a step which neither labor nor management can justly oppose. All that Mr. Truman asks is that a disinterested board shall find the facts in a major labor dispute and publish them. The parties to the dispute need not accept the findings. They will not be compelled to agree. But during the time the investigation is in progress—which is limited to 20 days' duration—it will be unlawful to call strikes or lockouts.

Those who right away protest that this is restrictive and impairs the worker's rights and so on simply overlook the fact that this is at present the law of the land with respect to railroad workers and railroad companies. Certainly there has been no request from either railroad unions or railway executives to repeal the existing legislation which has been on the books for nearly 20 years.

Since the principle is already established by Congress, it will not be persuasive for labor leaders or management to argue that the railroad industry is "different." The president has specifically named seven major industries which are as much concerned with the public interest as is transportation. These are steel, automobiles, aviation, mining, oil, utilities and communications.

Certainly a tie-up of long distance and local telephone or telegraph service is as dangerous and ruinous to the public welfare as a strike on the railroads or the air lines. To deprive the nation of gasoline or oil for motor vehicles is as much an impairment of the economic life of the country as to tie up the railroads, for it means a stoppage of trucks that deliver freight, and passenger vehicles and business transportation of various kinds. Without steel, manufacturing in many lines can easily be stopped.

President Truman has presented a mild program. There will be many members of Congress saying he has not gone far enough. His proposal, however, will appeal to all fair-minded citizens and it seems safe to say that no proposal on the labor situation will receive or has ever received a wider endorsement by public opinion in America than the one just made by Mr. Truman.

The entire proposition is contained in a few brief sentences in the President's message:

"Upon certification by the secretary of labor to the effect that a dispute continues despite his efforts and that a stoppage of work in the affected industry would vitally affect the public interest, the president, or his duly authorized agent, should be empowered to appoint, within five days thereafter, a fact-finding board similar to the emergency board provided for under the Railway Labor Act.

"I recommend that during these five days after the secretary of labor has made the above certificate, it be unlawful to call a strike or lockout, or to make any change in rates of pay, hours, or working conditions, or in the established practices in effect prior to the time the dispute arose . . .

"It (the board) should make its report within 20 days unless the date is extended by agreement of the parties with the approval of the President. The report should include a finding of the facts and such recommendations as the board deems appropriate.

"While the fact-finding board is deliberating and for five days thereafter it should be made unlawful to call a strike or lockout, or to make any change in rates of pay, hours, working conditions or established practices, except by agreement."

The board would have the all important powers of subpoena of "individuals and records" and the President says it "should be authorized to call upon any government agency for information or assistance."

This is a vital power. It means that accounting books and profits and costs could be thoroughly investigated—though not necessarily made public—and the truth ferreted out as to the claims of labor or management or both.

The Republicans for the most part may be expected to support the proposals and there will be enough Democrats in both houses to go along and form a majority. Assurance that President Truman will sign such a measure is the most hopeful development in many years in the economic history of the country.

Dr. B. J. Dutto Marries Eileen T. Rodgers At Immaculate Conception Church, Yonkers

The wedding of Miss Eileen T. Rodgers, daughter of Mrs. James W. Rodgers, 159 Chase avenue, Yonkers, to Capt. Bartholomew J. Dutto, M. C. Reserve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dutto, 42 Pine Grove avenue, took place Saturday at 11 a. m. in the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Yonkers. The Rev. Arthur Avard, pastor, officiated.

James A. King was organist. As soloist, Mrs. Robert Corbalis sang, Schubert's "Ave Maria," and Franck's "Panis Angelicus." The altar was decorated with large white chrysanthemums and tapers.

Richard W. McSpedon, brother-in-law of the bride escorted her. The bride's gown of white tulle was designed with a three tiered hoop skirt, drop shoulder neckline. Her fingertip veil was attached to a starched lace cap and she carried a white satin missal covered with bouvardia and a white orchid.

Miss Ethel C. Rodgers, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wore a French lilac silk jersey gown and headdress coronet of ivy with flowers to match her bouquet, which was painted pompons in pink to deep purple shades with ivy. Mrs. Harry D. Graham, sister of the bridegroom, of Kingston, was matron of honor. She wore a chartreuse silk jersey gown with coronet headpiece and bouquet of pink to magenta chrysanthemums.

The bride's mother wore a melon silk jersey gown with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias. The bridegroom's mother wore a black gown with Godey roses.

Capt. Harry D. Graham of Kingston, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, acted as best man. Ushers were Lt. Raymond A. Mino and Technical Sgt. Mario Goffredi, both of this city, and both cousins of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the orchid room of Gramatan Hotel, Bronxville. Afterward Dr. and Mrs. Dutto left for a wedding trip to the Poconos. For traveling Mrs. Dutto wore a tailored black wool suit with blue accessories and a mink scarf. They will make their home in Kingston where Dr. Dutto plans to reopen his offices December 17.

The bride attended Ybnkers schools and Columbia University and is a statistician for General Motors Corp. Dr. Dutto is a graduate of Kingston High School; Catholic University and George Washington University of Medicine. He is a member of the William Beaumont Medical Society of George Washington University. He held a commission in the medical corps reserve and was called from practice to active duty in February 1941. Dr. Dutto was recently relieved from active duty and is now on terminal leave. He served in Europe with the 32nd and 80th Divisions.

"CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS"

Miss Helen Gill Is Bride Of Edward Chocianowski

The Immaculate Conception Church was the scene of a pretty wedding Sunday, November 25, when Miss Helen Gill, daughter of Mrs. Eleanor Gill, 23 East Pierpont street, and the late Samuel Gill, became the bride of Edward Chocianowski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Chocianowski of 17 Mansion street, Poughkeepsie. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph Sieczek assisted by the Rev. Thaddeus Kaminski, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Poughkeepsie.

The bride who was escorted by her uncle, Anthony Gill, wore a white satin gown en train, styled with a yoke of illusion net embroidered with seed pearls; long pointed sleeves and full skirt. Her long illusion veil was caught by a tiara of seed pearls and was trimmed with lace. She carried white chrysanthemums. Miss Helen Tomaszewski, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. Both wore gowns designed alike with satin bodices, illusion yokes and full skirts. Miss Tomaszewski wore pink and Miss Chocianowski wore blue. They wore matching headdresses and carried pink chrysanthemums.

Stanley Chocianowski was best man for his brother. Edward Kowalski, close friend of the bridegroom, acted as an usher.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the White Eagle Hall for friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Chocianowski left for a wedding trip to upstate New York and Connecticut. Upon their return they will reside at the home of the bride's mother.

Mr. Chocianowski was recently discharged from the army having been in service, 44 months, 23 of which were overseas. He has the European Theatre of Operations ribbon with five battle stars, combat infantry badge and the Purple Heart.

Jr. League Sponsors Ballet for Children

The Junior League of Kingston will present the dramatic ballet, "Christopher Columbus" by Edwin Strawbridge and company at Kingston High School Auditorium Friday at 3:30 p. m. for the children of the community. Previously the date set for the presentation was Saturday afternoon but the ballet will be given Friday instead.

The stirring tale of America's beginnings will be done in the narrative balet form which Mr. Strawbridge has made so popular with the young people. It is the story of a boy who stuck to his convictions with an unshaken determination.

The busy Genoa waterfront, the resplendent court of Isabella and the simple little fleet of Columbus' expedition will be portrayed in dramatic dance. Pictorial scenery, colorful costumes, gay and charming music will be used.

There will be one performance only and the League members advise those planning to attend to purchase tickets at the schools since the seating capacity of the high school is only 1,100.

Members of the Junior League distributing tickets at the schools are Mrs. William Merrill, School No. 2; Mrs. Lowell Rutherford, School No. 3; Miss Florence Cordts, School No. 4; Mrs. Karl Lefren, School No. 5; Mrs. George Silkworth, School No. 6; Mrs. George Robinson, School No. 7; Mrs. George Chillson, School No. 8; Miss Helen Loughran, Myron J. Potter-Strasser Wedding Takes Place

Port Ewen, Dec. 4—Miss Audrey Strasser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Strasser of Port Ewen, was married to Basil Holton Potter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Basil C. Potter, Port Ewen, Sunday. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Carlton Forshee at the Port Ewen Methodist Church.

Miss Nancy Strasser was her sister's only attendant. Technical Sgt. John H. Potter was best man for his brother. A wedding dinner was held at Broglio's.

The bridegroom has recently received his honorable discharge from the army after 30 months overseas. Following a wedding trip in the south, the couple will reside in Port Ewen.

Coterie Studies Ellenville Glass History at Meeting

Coterie met with Miss Gladys Secor, 178 Ten Broeck avenue Saturday afternoon. The paper for the afternoon was given by Mrs. R. H. Van Valkenburgh on "Ellenville Glass."

In October 1836 Alvan Preston came to Ellenville and purchased a large tract of land for a glass factory which was the foundation for the growth of Ellenville, Mrs. Van Valkenburgh pointed out. The company was incorporated May 5, 1838, and consisted of Jasper Gilbert, Rufus Chamberlin, Elijah Johnson and Alvan Preston. Among the glass blowers were Neil Williams, Ed Ackerly, John Connelly, Henry Kelb, Francis Ruckel, Thomas Van Deusen, Richard and Daniel McMullen.

The line of work included Hollow Ware Bottles of various sizes used for patent medicines; demijohns and carboys, and a tall slender bottle made for Strang Murray Co. of New York; meat jars which the thrifty housewife filled with meat and covered with tallow and paper to preserve; pickel jars, sugar jars, blue vitriol containers and rolling pins. At first sand made from grinding rocks from the Shwangunk Mountains was used but it took an unusally long time to melt and only made inferior glass. Other ingredients used were soda and lime. Henry Zupp is the oldest living employe of the glass works. Pieces of Ellenville glassware are now becoming treasurers, Mrs. Van Valkenburgh explained. At the turn of the century competition became so great with other glass factories which were nearer their material resources that after many struggles the factory was finally discontinued.

The club will hold its annual Christmas party December 19, at the home of Mrs. Charles Terwilliger. The next regular meeting will be January 5, at the home of Mrs. Louis Beeres.

Symphony Concert Listed for Sunday At Local High School

Now in its 29th consecutive season, its fourth under the baton of Reginald Stewart, the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra will be presented in Kingston High School auditorium Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock as the first of this season's community concerts. Admission will be by membership ticket only.

The Baltimore Symphony Orchestra composed of 90 members has a novel history, inasmuch as it was the first symphony orchestra in the country to be municipally supported. Part of its financing is still derived from the city budget but civic minded citizens also contribute to the support of the orchestra so the scope of its activities can be increased and the high quality of its performance be insured.

Mr. Stewart is not only known as a conductor but is also a concert pianist and director of the Peabody Conservatory in Baltimore. Sunday night, December 2, he completed a series of guest appearances as conductor of the Ford Sunday evening hour over the American Broadcasting System.

In the personnel of the present orchestra nearly all the first chair members are also members of the Peabody faculty with a following in the city in their particular field. Among these, Ilya Schkolnik the concert master, was for more than 25 years concert master of the Detroit Symphony and famous as a violinist and teacher. Other first positions in the orchestra are held by Cecil Figelski, former first violinist with the Toronto Symphony and member of the faculty of the Toronto Conservatory; Mme. Marie Romaet Rosanoff, cellist of the Musical Art Quartet; Ralph Gomberg, oboe; Britton Johnson, flute; Gilbert Stange, clarinet, Walter Stein, bassoon; James Burke, trumpet; George Garstick, trombone; and Joseph Pizzo, harp.

Junior D.A.R. Has Christmas Program at December Meeting

Mrs. Roger Billings, chairman, presided at the meeting of Junior Group D.A.R. Monday night as the group held its annual Christmas meeting. The meeting opened with a group of Christmas carols sung by St. John's Episcopal Church choir under the direction of Robert Wolfersteig. For "Silent Night," Albert Donnestad sang the solo and the boys hummed the accompaniment. Mr. Wolfersteig also played "Golliwogg's Cake Walk" by Debussy and "The White Donkey," Ibert, as piano solos.

During the business meeting Christmas gifts for Kathleen and Tamassee School girls were collected. The committee for the annual dance announced that it would be held December 27 at the Chapter House with Ray Randall's orchestra.

Mrs. John Connors, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker, the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, pastor of Fair Street Reformed Church, who brought the Christmas Meditation on "Christmas Lights." He spoke of the meanings of the different colored lights and especially of the white one which was the message of hope for the whole world.

Afterward the entire group sang Christmas carols. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Frederick Grotemeyer, Mrs. Burton Haver and Mrs. Walter Perret.

10 ARMY DISCHARGES

T/4 Florence M. Fornaro of Route 3, Kingston, and nine Ulster county soldiers received honorable discharges from the army at Fort Dix on Friday, according to the public relations branch. The nine are:

S/Sgt. Donald G. Beany of 411 Albany avenue, Kingston; P.F.C. Lester Coddington of 77 Hasbrouck avenue, Kingston; T/5 Victor Decicco of 70 Smith avenue, Kingston; T/5 Chester D. Fox of 67 Hudson street, Kingston.

P.F.C. Frank L. Nagele of 118 Glen street, Kingston; T/4 Lowell M. Rutherford of 28 Stuyvesant street, Kingston; P.F.C. Santo V. Serravallo of 210 Foxhall avenue, Kingston; S/Sgt. Ralph G. Scism of 143 Jansen avenue, Kingston, and T/5 Earl V. Tongue of 231 Albany avenue, Kingston.

Sgt. Richard G. Banks, husband of Mrs. Nell Banks of 30 Chambers street, and son of Mrs. Frances Dakey of the same address, has been released from the service at the separation center at George Field, Ill. He entered the service November 18, 1942, and was assigned to the Air Corps. For his army service he holds the African campaign ribbon, American Theatre, Good Conduct and Victory Medal.

Corp. William J. O'Reilly of 37 Stuyvesant street, has been honorably discharged from the service at the separation center at Mitchel Field.

Sgt. Donald L. Merikle, 33, of 126 Ten Broeck avenue, has received his honorable discharge from the army air forces at the separation center at March Field, Calif. Prior to entering the service he was employed by William O'Reilly, Inc., of Broadway.

Corp. Clinton Turck of Kingston was honorably discharged November 25, at the Sheppard Field, Texas, separation center. Turck, a credit collector before entering the army, was stationed at Sheppard Field and Ellington Field, Texas, during his four years of service.

Staff Sgt. Albert A. Abdallah of 114 Newkirk avenue, has been honorably discharged from the army at the separation center at Fort Dix.

First Sgt. Kenneth D. Riel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Riel, 86 Downs street, received his honorable discharge at Fort Dix, N. J. November 24 after serving four years, five months and seven days, 20 months of which was in Europe.

G. C. Hepner of 35 Crane street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Heppner, has cleared the separation center at Ellington Field, Texas, after his honorable discharge from duty with the Army Air Forces. Gabriel J. Mautone of Linderman avenue, has also received his honorable relief from duty at the separation center. He is a son of Lewigi Mautone.

Joe F. Morris, seaman, 1/c, of 95 Hunter street, has received his honorable discharge from the navy at the Sampson separation center under the navy's point system.

WHERE THEY SERVE

Anthony R. Fabbie, 18, seaman, 2/c of the navy, of 193 Clifton avenue, has been assigned to the new light cruiser, U.S.S. Fargo, soon to be commissioned. He entered the navy in February. He is the son of Mrs. Anthony Fabbie. He attended high school and is a former employe of the Colonial Manufacturing Co.

Lieut. (j.g.) Edward O. Sentat of 79 West Union street, is serving with the Air Transport Squadron 11 of the Naval Air Transport Service Command, stationed at Honolulu, T. H.

Let Us Have Faith . . .

The fundamental principle in every worthy enterprise is Faith. Washington had Faith at Valley Forge; Lincoln had Faith at Gettysburg; Roosevelt had Faith in the American people.

Faith is the Foundation of all Business; the Keynote of all Religion.

Agnes—But, Jake, why don't you like girls?

Jake — They're too darned biased.

Agnes (not quite understanding)—Biased?

Jake—Yes, biased, I mean. Bias this, and bias that, until I'm flat broke.

The Ten Commandments of Business

Thou shalt work.
Thou shalt serve.
Thou shalt be tactful.
Thou shalt be dependable.
Thou shalt be on the square.
Thou shalt be enthusiastic.
Thou shalt know thy goods and thy customer.
Thou shalt develop individuality and personality.
Thou shalt retain the lasting good-will of the trade.
Thou shalt merit, obtain and retain the confidence of the trade.

A little boy, just returning home from his first day at school, was asked how he liked to go to school. He replied:

Boy—I like to go and I like to come; but it's the staying I don't like.

Prejudice is a great time saver—it enables one to form opinions without bothering to get the facts.

Returned Service Man—I seek your daughter's hand in marriage, sir. I love her devotedly and I would suffer, deeply if I caused her a moment's sorrow.

Father — You're dead right, young man. You sure would suffer. I know that girl.

The worst thing to run into collision with is public opinion.

We always aim to be cheerful as the circumstances warrant.

Husband — Yes, my love, I walked right into that radio station and asked the sound effects man for a job.

Wife—And what did he give you?

Husband—The horse laugh.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Gets Buck Fever

Pittsburgh, Dec. 4 (AP)—Judge G. Malcolm McDonald today excused Warlo Sharp from jury duty for one week—with an agreement that the judge gets a venison steak if Sharp gets a buck.

"Your excuse appeals to me," the judge told Sharp, who had declared, "I want to go hunting before the deer are all shot."

Way to a Man's Heart

Emporia, Kas., Dec. 4 (AP) — Thirty cattlemen staged a self-imposed "starvation campaign" here and raised $305,000 to oversubscribe the Lyon county Victory Loan quota.

The cattlemen provided a sumptuous dinner at a hotel and instructed waiters to withhold the food until the quota was filled.

The soup wasn't cool before the hungry diners raised the ante.

Lap of Luxury

Lchinhsien, Manchuria, Dec. 4 (AP)—Chinese National troops, whose pay is worth one American cent in China proper, have found themselves "rich" men in Manchuria due to an exchange rate ten times more favorable.

Their Chinese currency was 1,000 dollars to an American dollar in Chungking but the current rate is 100 to 1.

Flush with the equivalent of ten American cents a day, they have been buying fur coats at one American dollar each, fat chickens at five cents, steak at five cents a pound, and all kinds of souvenirs at similar bargain prices.

Land Snakes?

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 4 (AP)—Police responded to several hurry-up calls from residents who found a box containing 15 live rattlesnakes.

The officers were wondering what to do with the snakes when the owner came to claim them. He explained he had them on exhibition but the boy whom he hired to feed and water them became frightened and abandoned the reptiles.

Incensed

Minneapolis, Dec. 4 (AP)—Employes at the municipal incinerator have the jitters.

Discarded ammunition is being disposed in garbage cans and Superintendent Carl O. Nygaard has suggested war souvenirs be turned over to police—not to his garbage collectors.

Recently a hidden shell blew out an incinerator door and yesterday a live hand grenade was discovered—just in time.

4,000 Killed by Wave

London, Dec. 4 (AP)—A Reuters dispatch from Karachi, India, said today 4,000 persons were believed to have been killed and 40,000 made homeless by the tidal wave which struck the coastal belt in the Karachi-Bombay area last Wednesday. The dispatch quoted relief workers just returned from the scene as saying the tidal wave washed away seven villages.

Official Visit

Roy D. Martin, grand counselor of the state of New York, will pay an official visit to Kingston Council, 356, United Commercial Travelers, December 6, with a dinner at the First Dutch Reformed Church at 6:30 p. m., followed by a meeting at The Elks Club at 8:30, where a large class of candidates will be inducted into the order.

Mr. Martin is the vice president of the Winchester Optical Co., Elmira, N. Y., Williamsport, Pa., and Olean, N. Y. He is a successful business man and he will bring to his audience those things that are of interest to commercial and professional men.

School Lunch Program Succeeds

Average of 1,455 Served Daily, Report Shows

The school lunch program in Kingston has grown to be a considerable business with an average of 1,455 lunches being served every school day in the city. For the months of September and October there were 18,759 Type "A" and 30,001 Type "B" lunches served for a total of 48,760.

Total cost for food during that period was $6,318.14 with labor costing $2,149.42 and other expenditures for gas, electricity and equipment, amounting to a total of $9,030.85. Income during the period was $7,645.73 leaving a deficit of $1,385.12.

During the two months period there were 1037 type "A" lunches served free and 3,329 type "B" lunches served free, these being served to children who are unable to pay for their lunches. The total income from lunches during the two months period was $3,725.18 with the U.S.D.A. aid amounting to $2,288.33 and other cash income $1,632.22. In September there were but 16,741 paid lunches served and 1,432 free lunches. In October there was a total of 32,019 paid lunches and 2,934 free lunches served, indicating a growing lunch business.

Many parents now have their children remain at the schools and get a hot lunch during the winter months, rather than make the trip home at noon. Numerous comments have been received as to the quality of the lunches served the children.

Stars and Stripes Becomes Bible of G.I.'s Expression

Freedom of Views, Even Rapping Brass Hats and Congress, Can't Be Muzzled

Honolulu, Dec. 4 (AP)—A soldier newspaper that raps brass hats, rebukes Congress and speaks its mind about official double talk on demobilization has become the Bible of free expression for Pacific soldiers and sailors.

The Honolulu edition of Stars and Stripes, born last May, goes to bat for enlisted men on every and all occasions. It has succeeded in upholding freedom of the press despite several attempts by high officials to muzzle its G.I. editorial staff.

Its most recent disclosure was that Seaman Paul T. Stewart, son of Senator Tom Stewart (D-Tenn.) had been reassigned to duty at Norfolk, Va., although he had only 18 discharge points and had been overseas only nine months.

As a result, young Stewart requested that his orders be canceled.

The Stewart case was only one of a long line of free-speaking incidents in which Stars and Stripes used it powerful influence among its 90,000 circulation in the Pacific and let the boys know the paper is on their side with no reservations.

It recently lashed out against official double talk about demobilization which it said was confusing Pacific soldiers and sailors and causing them more unhappiness than anything else. Although it is an Army paper, 40 per cent of its circulation does to the Navy.

Its liberal policy can be traced to Lt. Gen. Robert C. Richardson, Jr., commander of Army forces in the mid-Pacific theatre, who consistently has supported the paper's youthful board of editors when any brass suggested editorial control.

Last September, a Brigadier General suggested supervision and control of all editorial matter in the paper, but Richardson refused. On another occasion, a Colonel posted a notice saying: "Any individual desiring to send information, news items or gripes to any source for publication must forward same through the public relations office."

This came to the attention of Stars and Stripes and within 48 hours Richardson had the order rescinded.

"We think we have the freest soldier newspaper in the world," said managing editor M/Sgt. Charles Avedon of Los Angeles, former Hollywood script writer and one time reporter on the New York Journal American. Avedon, 33, is the pappy of the group.

Officers are assigned to the paper but they act merely in an advisory capacity. The paper is edited, printed and distributed entirely by soldiers. The editorial policy is controlled by a board of five enlisted men headed by Avedon. They meet each day to discuss policy, decide on editorials, editorial cartoons and stories.

Since then, the paper has taken off its wraps and has not hesitated to uncover any irregularities it finds or to speak its mind on issues affecting the soldiers and sailors.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Let's Look at the Wage Record

Leaders of the UAW-CIO have never accused General Motors of paying low wages.

They have not because they could not. GM hourly wage rates are substantially higher than the average for industry in general.

Under these circumstances the wage demands of UAW leaders appear fantastic.

Without offering anything in return, they demand a wage jump that would add 30% to the pay of workers already among the highest paid in the country.

In 1941, the last peacetime year, the average GM factory worker received a wage that put his income among the top one-third of all incomes in the United States—not just labor incomes but all incomes.

The average GM factory worker can buy much more food, clothing and other necessities—as well as more of the comforts of life—than the average industrial worker can.

General Motors has always paid high wages to its employes. It always expects to.

Merchants Are Warned Against Check Forgers

Chief of Police Charles Phinney of the Kingston Police Department today issued a warning to all merchants reminding them that the Christmas holiday shopping season is the time when the check thief and forger are most active.

"Merchants are the prime victims of this criminal," said Chief Phinney, who joined with Frank J. Wilson, chief of the United States Secret Service, in making the following statement:

"Retail merchants should instruct their employes to exercise the greatest care in accepting either government checks or commercial checks from strangers."

Referring to the unprecedented number of government checks being issued at the present time to veterans in the form of mustering out pay, veterans' compensation, and for benefits under the G.I. Bill of Rights, commercial checks, especially Christmas Club checks from banks, and State Unemployment Insurance checks, they both suggested that each merchant have his employes "initial any check they accept and jot down some as to what identification was used."

"Mr. Merchant," they continued, "make up your mind to save yourself from loss by knowing your endorser and requiring identification before cashing any check. Follow these precautions!"

Action Against Fish Company Was Dismissed

On motion of Fred Stang, counsel for the Up-State Fish Company, that concern was eliminated as a defendant in an action brought in supreme court by Bertha Feckerman against The Mohican Company. The concern had been brought in as a defendant but before submitting the case to the jury Justice Schirick granted a motion to dismiss the action as against the Up-State Fish Company, leaving The Mohican Company as the only defendant. The jury was unable to agree.

Rebekah Party

Colonial Rebekah Lodge will hold its annual Christmas party in Odd Fellows' Hall on Broadway, on Monday evening for the members and friends. Each one attending is urged to bring an item for the covered dish dinner which will be served at the close of the meeting. They are also asked to bring a small gift for the Christmas tree.

Elect Fire Commissioners

Residents of the town of Ulster Fire District No. 5 will vote at the town garage, Albany Avenue Extension, from 7 to 10 o'clock tonight to select five commissioners for the district. Temporary appointments as commissioners were made last fall, to serve until a regular election could be held.

Robinson Boxes Dellicurti Tonight

Boston, Dec. 4 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, regarded as one of the best of all the boxers in competition, and the persistent Vic Dellicurti, his hometown New York middleweight rival, will wage their third clash tonight in the Goodwin A.C.'s 10-round feature bout at the Boston Garden.

Like all of Robinson's victims, Dellicurti has been soundly trounced by the Negro sensation. But Dellicurti has, however, the rare distinction of lasting 10 rounds with Sugar on two occasions.

Billy Conn, the heavyweight title contender, will be an added attraction as a guest referee.

Famous Stallion Sold for $130,000

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 4 (AP)—Purchase of the 13-year-old English stallion, Bahram, for a reported $130,000 has been announced by Charles Lund, South American breeder.

The stallion formerly was owned by an American syndicate headed by Alfred G. Vanderbilt which had bought the horse a decade ago for $160,000.

Lund said he would soon ship Bahram to the Chapedmalal Stock Farm at Mar del Plata in Argentina. Bahram, unbeaten in his racing career in England, is now at Vanderbilt's Sagamore Farm in Maryland.

Eastern Football Award Goes to Army

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Army's peerless gridders are beginning to reap a champion's harvest.

The collegiate football kings were unanimously voted the August V. Lambert Memorial Trophy, symbolic of eastern football supremacy, while Doc Blanchard, the Cadets' All-American fullback, captured two "outstanding player of the year" awards yesterday.

Hokkaido, one of the Japanese home islands, has almost one-fourth of Japan's total home island area.

Army Unanimous Choice at Nation's No. 1 Grid Team

By MURRAY ROSE

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—Without a single dissenting vote, Army's eleven has been named the No. 1 college football team of the country for the second year in succession.

In defeating Navy decisively 32-13 Saturday for their 18th consecutive victory in two seasons, the Cadets convinced the 116 experts who voted in the final Associated Press rating poll that they stand in a class by themselves.

Last year Army drew 95 of the 121 first place ballots while runner-up Ohio State collected five and the service squads attracted the other top ballots. This year the service teams were not included in the poll. The twice-beaten Buckeyes, incidentally, finished in 12th place this year.

As a result of a stalwart second half stand against Army in the service classic, Navy garnered enough second and third place support to windup in second position with 942 points while the Rose Bowl-bound Alabama gridders took third with 932 points. Army piled up 1,160 points on a basis of 10 points for first, nine for second and so down the list.

Indiana's Big Ten champions grabbed off fourth place while Oklahoma's Aggie's, another unbeaten and untied combination, moved up from sixth to fifth.

Notre Dame, which was fifth a week ago, dropped down to ninth as a result of the Sound Benders, 39-7 licking at the hands of Great Lakes Saturday.

Michigan finished sixth followed by St. Mary's, Pennsylvania, Notre Dame and Texas.

The ranking teams:

Team	Pts.
1—Army	1,160
2—Navy	942
3—Alabama	932
4—Indiana	720
5—Oklahoma Aggies	651
6—Michigan	378
7—St. Mary's	320
8—Pennsylvania	218
9—Notre Dame	217
10—Texas	163

Others: 11—Southern California, 121; 12—Ohio State, 82; 13—Duke, 74; 14—Tennessee, 73; 15—Louisiana State, 62; 16—Holy Cross 56; 17—Tulsa, 35; 18—Georgia 29; 19—Wake Forest, 11; 20—Columbia, 10.

Hogan and Snead Are Favorites in Miami Open Play

Miami, Fla., Dec. 4 (AP) — Ben Hogan, winner of the Orlando Open and Sammy Snead, the Virginian, have been established as co-favorites at odds of 6 to 1 to win the $10,000 Miami Open Golf Tournament which begins Thursday.

The field will be limited to 200. Manager H. H. Arnold of the Miami Springs course, where the event will be played, said there were already 178 entries.

A group of pros arrived from Orlando in a C-47 plane, piloted by Johnny Bulla. Hogan served as co-pilot. The golfers plan to use the plane on the winter circuit.

Flock of Martins

Miami, Fla., Dec. 4 (AP)—Racing fans who wish to follow Jockey Martin at Gulfstream will have their troubles separating a quartet of Martin boys. They are R. J. Martin, J. W. Martin, R. E. Martin and T. P. Martin. Charley and Joe Martin didn't show up yet but are expected later.

The little animal called the otter is misnamed, for he dislikes water almost as much as a cat does.

Bowling

Independent League

Stone Ridge won two of their games with Beichert's at the Central Rec Alleys Monday evening and held their two-game lead in the Independent Bowling League. Hub Townsend had a 534 triple while Earl Terwilliger rolled a 204 for high single.

Martin's Market continued to hold second place by taking two from Cole's Market. Ray Roux took all honors, spilling them for a 576 triple and 215 single.

Vogel's Dairy took three from Jump's Market and took possession of third place. Ralph Halbert with a 569 triple and 232 single led the rest of the bowlers.

Orv Van Alstyne took top honors for the evening with a 578 triple and 247 single. He led Callanan's to three wins over Wilber's.

'46 Grid Season Is Predicted as Most Aggressive

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—College grid coaches are predicting 1946 will bring the most rugged and aggressive football in history with offensive-minded war veterans carrying the burden of the attack.

The bulk of the mentors quizzed by the Associated Press in a season-end poll based their forecast on what they saw in the '45 campaign when returning servicemen, as a general rule, displayed the same enthusiasm and spirit they had shown in pre-war days.

There were exceptions but such standout vets as Pete Pihos of Indiana, Bob Evans of Pennsylvania, Meryll Frost of Dartmouth and Jerry Niles of Iowa more than evened the score.

Belief that the ex-servicemen had learned more thoroughly the lessons of teamwork and adaptability and the supreme value of offense was the main reason for the rosy predictions for next year.

Miami 6-5

Miami, Fla., Dec. 4 (AP)—Early betting today rated the University of Miami football team a 6 to 5 choice over Holy Cross in the Orange Bowl here on New Year's Day.

St. John's Star Coming Here

Official Navy Photo

When the New York Fleet Post Office basketball team plays the U. S. Army Signal Corps quintet from Long Island for the Veterans of Foreign Wars at the municipal auditorium, Wednesday, December 12, Bobby Walsh, left, will be one of the Bluejackets to watch. Prior to entering the Navy he was one of the cage luminaries at St. John's prep. This 240-pounder is a hustler on the court. He's only 18 and looks forward to entering Fordham when he leaves his blues behind and his S 1/c rating. Bobby is 6-2 in height, and his weight is well distributed. Fourteen other Navy players will be here with him gunning for a victory over Army.

Walter Ward Is Leading All-Star Tenpin Tourney

Chicago, Dec. 4 (AP)—Walter Ward, veteran Cleveland bowler who has been a strong contender for the national title for several years, today led the field of 139 kegling stars at the end of three days of firing in the fifth annual all-star tournament.

The 48 year old Cleveland sharpshooter had a three day, 18-game total of 3,702, picking up 1,259 pins in yesterday's block to pass Pvt. Therman Gibson, the Detroit soldier who led the pack during the first two days of trundling by the nation's top bowlers.

Gibson had a chance to hold onto the lead but he faltered in his sixth and final game early today. He tossed an anemic 145, which gave him 3,680 for his 18 games, good enough for the runner-up spot.

Steve Czerwinski, 41 year old Buffalo, N. Y., furniture salesman, making his first bid for all-star honors, posted a 3,642 total for third place. One pin back was Connie Schwoegler of Madison, Wis., the 1942 titlist. Andy Varipapa, Hempstead, N. Y., was in 12th place with 3,576.

The field of 139 will conclude the four-day qualifying test today in another six-game block. Then the 43 top scorers will move into the semi-finals tomorrow for 12 more games.

13 Hunters Die From Accidents In Deer Season

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 4 (AP)—This year's deer season brought death to at least 13 hunters, an official compilation shows.

Three were drowned, eight were shot fatally and two died of illnesses while hunting.

The season ended November 30, except in Westchester county, where archers may stalk deer until December 15.

The Conservation Department expects full accident details within two weeks, and then will determine whether anyone involved in a shooting should lose his right to hunt.

Minor Baseball Trading Session Is Quiet Affair

By HAROLD HARRISON

Columbus, O., Dec. 4 (AP)—The trade winds were calm today at the 44th Minor League Baseball Convention with ivory hunters and traders talking only in terms of hard, cold cash.

Most of the delegates to the convention, which won't open officially until tomorrow, insisted they were interested only in selling ball players. As a result nothing much is expected to happen until the Major Leagues gather in Chicago next week and perhaps it may be even later than that before they get around to the business of exchanging players.

That was the attitude preceeding the convention which will consider such questions are:

An amendment which might make W. G. Bramham, the head of all Minor Leagues, the final ruler in all differences in the Minors and take away from Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler the right to throw out all legislation he considered "detrimental to baseball."

Much of that can not be settled, however, until the Majors meet next week.

The next biggest problem seemed to involve present Class AA Leagues—the International, the Pacific Coast and the American Association—and one of the two Class A-1 loops—the Southern Association.

The three Class AA Leagues already have asked for Class AAA rating. The Southern Association is due to move into Class AA. Now the Pacific Coast League wants Major League dating and opinion seemed to favor Pacific Coast League's aims.

Other than that the situation seemed something like this:

At least 31 leagues are ready to operate next season as compared with 12 last year.

The American Association voted to operate on a four-trip season next year with the eastern clubs opening in the east and the western teams opening in the west.

The Ohio State League which now has seven clubs counting newly added Richmond, Ind., hopes to add either Dayton or Portsmouth, O.

The International League voted to oppose the commissioner's right to throw out legislation termed "detrimental to baseball."

Today approximately 10 leagues hold meetings and the real fireworks start tomorrow.

Maritime Union Protest Ended

Joseph Curran Claims Success for Venture

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—A 24-hour work stoppage which halted loading and sailing of ships in ports all along the nation's coastline ended today.

Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union (C.I.O.), said the strike was in protest against delay in the return of overseas veterans. Claiming broad success for the stoppage, Curran said the union was protesting use of some ships for commerce when they could be used to transport troops.

He said union members did not cease work on troopships, relief ships, colliers, tankers and ships at sea.

Curran said 40,000 union members stopped work in San Francisco and in Boston all ships were held at their docks. Some 500 seamen picketed Baltimore docks, he said, and all union members refused to cross picket lines in Houston, Tex.

The union leader said 6,000 left their jobs in New York, tying up 120 ships, while across the Hudson river at Jersey City, 20 vessels were paralyzed. At New Orleans, 55 ships were tied up and port operations in Philadelphia were at a virtual standstill, he continued.

However, Capt. Hewlett R. Bishop, Atlantic coast director of the War Shipping Administration, said the walkout was ineffective. He said only 38 ships were affected in ports along the entire east coast from Portland, Me., to Jacksonville, Fla.

W. P. Eno Dies; War Expert in Traffic

Norwalk, Conn., Dec. 4 (AP)—William Phelps Eno who started studying traffic control in the horse and buggy days, and who became the originator of one-way streets, traffic rotaries and other developments for handling a heavy flow of vehicles died last night at the Norwalk Hospital.

The 87-year-old traffic engineer, still active despite his age, had been ill for several weeks.

Eno's ideas for handling traffic were used by the world's greatest cities and by some of the world's greatest armies.

The world's first police street traffic regulations, drawn up by Eno, were adopted by New York city in 1903, and he also gave London and Paris their first traffic plans.

He devised a "road traffic control code with safety rules for pedestrians" which Allied troops used in France in World War I and again in North Africa in World War II.

Columbus Circle in New York city had the first traffic rotary, an Eno innovation, in 1907. He also showed the French how to construct one at the Arc de Triomphe in Paris in 1927.

Eno was born in New York, graduated from Yale in 1882 and was engaged in the real estate business in New York from 1884 until 1898.

He is survived by his widow, the former Alberta Averill Paz of Washington whom he married in 1934, a nephew, former Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, and two nieces.

Schoolboys Can't Leave Classes for Fire Duty

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 4 (AP)—New York state schoolboys can serve as volunteer firemen if they want to—but they can't go galloping out of school to answer an alarm.

That was the gist of a ruling by Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein today in response to a query by the state Labor Department.

Said the attorney general:

"It is my opinion that the sections of the labor law and education law (dealing with employment of minors and regulation of their employment) do not apply to minors under 18 years of age so as to prevent their acting as volunteer firemen, but that minors to whom the compulsory attendance provisions of the education law are applicable are not to be excused from such attendance to answer alarms or extinguish fires."

Support Is Withdrawn

Athens, Dec. 4 (AP)—The Leftist Eam (National Liberation Front) Central Committee announced today it was withdrawing its support of Greece's new government headed by Premier Themistokles Sophoulis. Earlier, Sophoulis had announced that Greek elections—originally scheduled for January 20, 1946—would be held March 31. The Eam move was met with the comment from a government spokesman that the Left Wing Party's support had "never been asked for."

Manchurians Welcome Nationalist Forces

Chungking, Dec. 4 (AP)—A Chinese press dispatch said today that Independent Manchurian forces had marched into Mukden to welcome Nationalist troops only 30 miles away.

This report said that a brother of Marshall Chan Such-Liang — who once electrified the world by kidnapping Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek—had proclaimed himself "an ally of the Nationalists" and had sent his troops into the city.

Dispatches a few days ago had reported that the Marshal's brother, General Chang Hsu-Shih, was ready to join the Nationalist cause if assurances were given that his brother would not be molested.

A report from Yenan, Communist capital, also had credited General Chu Teh, commander-in-chief of Chinese Communists, with a statement that his forces had no Marshal Chang's former northeastern forces.

A dispatch from Peiping asserted the Nationalist-held air field at connection with the activities of Chinhsien, railway city about halfway between the great wall and Mukden, had been repaired and ground crews already had arrived there.
